Brattleboro Selectmen Blame State's Attorney Williams.

Brattleboro, June 25.—The local board of selectmen after repeated communications with State's Attorney Charles H. Williams have been unable to get prosecutions brought against the local druggists whose stock of liquor appeared to be deficient in quality as a result of the examination of 33 samples at Burlington. The board early in April had these samples taken and when the results became known to the selectmen they wrote the state's attorney, asking him to prosecute these cases as required by law. Several other letters have followed until Chairman John Galvin on June 15 wrote intimating that attorney general John C. Sargent's attention would be called to the matter unless the matter was attended to at once. This letter was answered by State's Attorney Williams stating in substance that the selectmen were at liberty to apply to Mr. Sargent, which they may do if action is not taken soon. Mr. Williams' replies have been to the effect that he had delayed on account of rush of business.

BANDITS KILL
TWO AT LYNN

Two Other Men Shot in Rush to Escape Police

DARING HOLD-UP TODAY

John Landrigan, a Shoe Manufacturer, and Policeman Carroll Were Carrying $4,500 in Satchel to Pay Off the Men at the Former's Factory.

Lynn, Mass., June 25.—John Landrigan, a partner in Walsh & Landrigan, a big shoe firm of this city, was shot dead, policeman Carroll was fatally wounded, dying soon afterwards, when three highway men held them up in the heart of the city and took $4,500 in a satchel which they were bringing to the shoe factory from the bank as the weekly payroll of the factory employees.

The highwaymen, riding right and left, rushed through town, wounding two others as they fled. They fled toward the Lynn woods. At high rock they abandoned the money, which was subsequently recovered.

The hold-up came at 9:15 this forenoon. Within five minutes, every policeman in the city and dozens of citizens were in pursuit of the robbers to the Lynn woods.

Mr. Landrigan died instantly and policeman Carroll died within a few minutes after receiving his wound. The bodies were removed from the scene of the shooting to the police station.

Firing as they ran, the three bandits fled through town, their revolvers cracking at heads shown at windows. At high rock the mob pressed so close they dumped the heavy sack of money and fled to a field on the edge of the town, where they rounded up. As the posse closed in, one of the robbers shot himself, a policeman killed another, and the third was captured and brought to the police station here.

SHRINERS AT PLAY.

Splendid Time Enjoyed by Big Crowd at Newport.

Newport, June 25.—The annual field day of Mount Sinai temple Ancient Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was held here yesterday when 800 Nobles were in line of march. The street decorations were abundant, all the business blocks and nearly all the private residences being dressed in holiday attire.

The parade formed at 9 o'clock in front of the B. & M. railroad station in the following order: Noble J. P. Lannan, marshal; Nobles Fred C. Gilman and Clara B. Powell as aides; mounted Nobles in charges of Charles M. McCauley; Newport convert band, 40 pieces; past masters of Mount Sinai temple, 11. Potentate Isaac D. Bailey and officers in full uniforms; representatives of Katash temple of Concord, N. H., and Katash temple of Weymouth, Mass. team with young shriners; Masters Burgess and O'Leary in full regalia; Mount Sinai Arab patrol in full uniform led by Noble Frank K. Goss, chief; members of Mount Sinai temple in full uniform; Mount Sinai's camp having in tow 200 novices about to cross the hot sands in charge of Noble J. P. Lannan.

After the parade the Nobles embarked on the steamer, Lady of the Lake, for a short sail around the lake landing at Owl's head mountains at 12 o'clock.

At 2 p. m. a genuine Rhode Island clam bake was given under the direction of Rev. J. H. Dixon, after which sports were indulged in, consisting of foot races, foot races and jumping contests. A baseball game was pulled off between Orleans county and the rest of the state. At 7 o'clock the boat left on the return trip arriving at Newport a few minutes after 8 o'clock amid a shower of rock rockets and Roman candles.

Upon leaving the boat the Shriner's formed in parade, the line of march leading to Academy hall, where a banquet was served under the direction of Noble Richard Hurst. The display of fireworks on Main street was the most elaborate ever attempted on a similar scale.

The victory was declared in their favor by the hospitality of the townspeople who gave them a warm welcome and also of Noble George F. Root and aides, who had charge of the local arrangements. The sports were in charge of Fred C. Gilson.

SEVENTEEN INITIATED

Into Cairo Temple at Burlington Yesterday Afternoon.

Burlington, June 25.—Seventeen weary ones of the plains were initiated among the strolling sands of the desert to the Holy City of Mecca yesterday afternoon and before the setting of the sun they had been made members of Cairo temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. The audience of nobles from this city and other parts of the state was large and the session was a success from every viewpoint.

Following the work the officers of the temple in uniform headed a parade about the center of the city and to the King street wharf. In the procession were Sherman's band, the Arab patrol led by their chief, Noble D. B. Rossette, the initiates in close formation, and the nobles. A striking feature of the parade was the skillful juggling of a broad-baton by the Arab chief.

At the wharf the nobles were met by their ladies and the procession was taken for a sail about the lake. The boat landed at the yacht club wharf at eight o'clock and a number of the party stopped to attend a dance at the home of the club. The boat then returned its cruise and final landing was made shortly after ten o'clock. On board an excellent banquet was served.

MOUNTAIN FOR A PRESENT.

Young Mortimer R. Proctor Gets It On His Birthday.

Rutland, June 25.—It isn't often that a young man receives on his birthday a mountain for a present—particularly a beautiful, verdant, wooded mountain peak—but that is the present Mortimer R. Proctor of Proctor has just received from his father, ex-Governor Fletcher R. Proctor.

George T. and Newman K. Chaffee of this city have deeded to Mortimer Proctor a thousand acres of timberlands in the town of Sherburne. The property conveyed is all of the original rights Nos. 13, 14 and 15 in that town, including the peak of Mount Pico. The land is heavily wooded and is suited for a magnificent game preserve, for which it may be retained by its owner. Mortimer Proctor's grandfather, the late Senator Redfield Proctor, owned and occupied for a considerable part of his life a lodge at Pico pond, having purchased several years ago the pond and adjoining acreage from the Chaffees.

Mortimer R. Proctor gets this thousand acres as his birthday present from his father. The deed conveying the land was specially prepared on parchment and is handsomely engrossed by hand after the style of diplomas in old Roman and script letters. It is the work of F. W. Martin, an expert penman of Boston.

The young man, who has just attained his majority, has completed his sophomore year at Yale university and is now on a trip to Europe with a classmate. He is very fond of fishing and outdoor life, as was his distinguished grandfather.

ON A JOY RIDE

With a Stolen Horse and a Stolen Carriage Also.

Burlington, June 25.—A well developed sensation of a stolen horse in New York state, a trip to Vermont shore and a little joy ride in Burlington was developed at police headquarters here yesterday when Peter Pichotte of Keosauqua, N. Y., came here to find out what had become of his stolen property.

Thursday afternoon a nice looking fellow rode a horse and rig at first back way's place at Acushnet, N. Y. He drove to Keosauqua, where he went to Peter Pichotte's stable and said he wanted a better carriage than the one he had, representing that he was the brother of a well known person of the place.

He was given a new rubber tired buggy, which he hooked up to a little mouse colored horse obtained at Brockway's, and then drove to Port Kent, embarked on the "Ticonderoga" and arrived at Burlington at 5. He met Margaret Grogan and Lena Basset, who rode up and down the principal streets with him and asked them the way to Shelburne, stating that he was going to Rutland.

Newport, June 25.—When the horse he was driving became frightened by an automobile, John Tisdale, aged 90 years, was swept from his seat by an overhanging branch and was almost instantly killed. The horse, which before that had been considered safe, became frightened.

In order to let the team pass, Mr. Kelley pulled to the side of the road and was about to help the aged man when the horse bolted.

After the runaway had gone but a short distance, an overhanging limb caught the driver and brushed him from the wagon, causing fatal injuries. Mr. Kelley is not blamed for the accident. Mr. Tisdale leaves his wife and one son, with whom he lived.

A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

Was the Recital Given by the Pupils of Miss Grace Towne Wood.

In the Baptist church last evening, a large audience listened with much pleasure to the piano and vocal recital given by the pupils of Miss Grace Towne Wood. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with daisies, ferns and potted plants. The well-arranged program was a pronounced success from start to finish and the audience showed its appreciation over the pleasing manner and ability in which each number was rendered, by loud and enthusiastic applause.

The younger class might be especially mentioned for their good work, but the class, as a whole, showed much progress during the past year. Miss Wood has devoted a great deal of her time lately to the little folks and much credit is due her for their advanced work. A list of those taking part follows: Mary Patterson, Hildreth Martin, Leafy Whitney, Dorothy Milne, Doris Marion, Theresa Dix, Jennie Albin, Gladys Ford, Maynard Blair, Hazel Rollins, Anton Seck, Elma Beckley, May Dale, Beatrice Ford, Madeline McDonald, Margaret Mercer, Walter Tobin, Augustine Larochele, Theron Morse, Vivian Marion, Bertie Dale, Leila Hancock, Ralph Tobin, Neal Hooker, Geora Morse, Ella Mott, Ethel Morris, Carroll Smith, Jennie Kildner, Emily Radley, Eva McDonald, Mildred Peery, Eva Chazy, Margaret Catto, Gertrude Gask, Louella Ewert, Gladys Perkins, Rachel Dix, Max Holden, Pearl Kent, Marjorie Andrews, Dorothy Parks, Vina Camp, John McCalliskill, Freida Hooker, Isabelle Mackie, Mrs. J. ## A FILE OF GROUT

Is Causing a Great Deal of Discussion in Court.

E. R. Fletcher, the plaintiff in the $25,000 suit against the Woodbury Granite company over a disputed boundary between granite quarries, was on the stand in Washington county court yesterday afternoon. The principal point brought by his testimony was that the particular piece of land in dispute is absolutely necessary to the working of the Fletcher quarry for any length of time. He said also that the ground is no longer fit for dumping grout because there is already a large amount of waste material there and it would be impracticable to dump more.

When Attorney John W. Redmond tried to get an affidavit from Mr. Fletcher of the damage done by the dumping of grout waste, holding Mr. Fletcher to be an expert quarryman, the defense objected, saying that while Mr. Fletcher may have been the owner of the quarry land and have been connected administration of the business he was not, therefore, an expert.

When Mr. Fletcher had concluded, James M. Boutwell of the Boutwell, Milne & Varnum company was put on the stand. He testified that the cost of removing the grout pile now on the land in dispute would be about 54 cents a yard.
